

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the writer concludes the research titled The Morphological Analysis of Derivational Affixes in the novel entitled "The Boy Who Knew Everything" Written by Victoria Forester. This research done by the writer discusses about kinds of the derivational affixes and functions of derivational affixes found in the novel entitled The Boy Who Knew Everything by Victoria Forester. Also, this chapter includes the suggestion related about this research.

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the analysis done by the writer using the theory of Plag (2002) and Bauer (1983) in the chapter IV, the writer concludes several conclusions.

First, kinds of derivational affixes found in the selected novel are nominal suffixes, verbal suffixes, adjectival suffixes, adverbial suffixes, and prefixes. Further explanation, kinds of nominal suffixes found in this novel are -age (2), -al (5), -ance (11), -ence (3), -ancy (1), -ant (2), -cy (5), -ce (18), -dom (2), -er (30), -or (6), -(e)ry (3), -ian (2), -ing (17), -ion (62), -ation (27), -ism (3), -ity (29), -ment (24), -ness (37), -ship (3), -th (4), and -ure (4). The total data of nominal suffixes are 300 data.

Kinds of verbal suffixes found in this novel are -en (5), -ify (3), and -ize (5). The total data of verbal suffixes are 13 data.

Kinds of adjectival suffixes found in this novel are -able (26), -ible (3), -al (31), -ual (4), -ial (2), -ary (5), -ed (51), -ful (32), -ic (18), -ical (3), -ing (75), -ish (6), -ive (22), -less (25), -ly (4), -ous (19), -y (23), -ant (1), -ate (1), -atory (1), and -en (1). The total data of adjectival suffixes are 353 data.

Kinds of adverbial suffixes found in this novel are -ly (281) and -ward (4). The total data of adverbial suffixes are 285 data.

Kinds of prefixes found in this novel are over- (10), a(n)- (1), anti- (1), dis- (17), in- (20), mis- (1), non- (1), un- (63), re- (21), extra- (1), pro- (1), fore- (2), and counter- (1). The total data of prefixes are 140 data.

From the findings above, the total of all data are 1.091 data. It could be seen that adjectival suffixes have a biggest data, with the total 353 data, followed by nominal suffixes, adverbial suffixes, prefixes, and adjectival suffixes.

Second, functions of derivational affixes found in the novel entitled The Boy Who Knew Everything by Victoria Forester are: Verb maker (48 data), Noun maker (309 data), Adjective maker (289 data), and Adverb maker (283 data). The total data of function of derivational affixes are 929 data. It could be seen that noun maker has a biggest data, with the total 309 data.

5.2 Suggestion

From the conclusion above, the writer proposes some suggestions. First, the writer suggests the students to learn morphology, especially in the derivational affixes. Learning morphology helps students to increase their vocabulary. They can expand vocabularies with a different word class, so they can practice it in their reading and writing skill. If students do not learn morphology, they will not be able to use the word with a different word class. In other words, students will get wrong in interpreting the word.

Second, the writer suggests the other researchers to have a background knowledge about derivational affixes before conducting the research relating with this topic. Also, for other researchers that is using a novel as the data, the writer suggests to list all the words in the Microsoft Excel to make it easier when putting and finding the word. Because of the big amount of data, in case there are some double words, it can be detected. Furthermore, the other researchers can use the novel entitled The Boy Who Knew Everything by Victoria Forester as the data to be analyzed through other linguistic or literature approaches. At the end, the writer hopes from this analysis can be used as a reference for the next researcher who would like to further analyze the derivational affixes and also useful for the reader to find information about this topic.
